Most Reverend
Clarence G. Issenmann,
P.A., S.T.D., Ph.L., Jour.D.

Auxiliary Bishop
of Cincinnati

"Protect the holy Church and make all men feel the attraction of Christian virtue."

Dedication

We, the students of St. Ursula Academy, offer tribute to the "Pinnacle of Virtue," our Blessed Lady.

To her we dedicate our yearbook of 1953-'54, in commemoration of her Marian Year.

Throughout our high school years, Mary aids us in every possible way. She is our "Queen of Eternal Truth" and forever leads us toward higher knowledge and true wisdom.

As the "Pure Fountain of Faith," she instructs her docile children in the beliefs of Catholicism and molds our young minds and hearts into Christian strength of Character. During the entirety of our lives she is constantly by our side pointing the way to sanctity.

O, Mary! "Queen of the Universe," . . . guide us to your Divine Son.

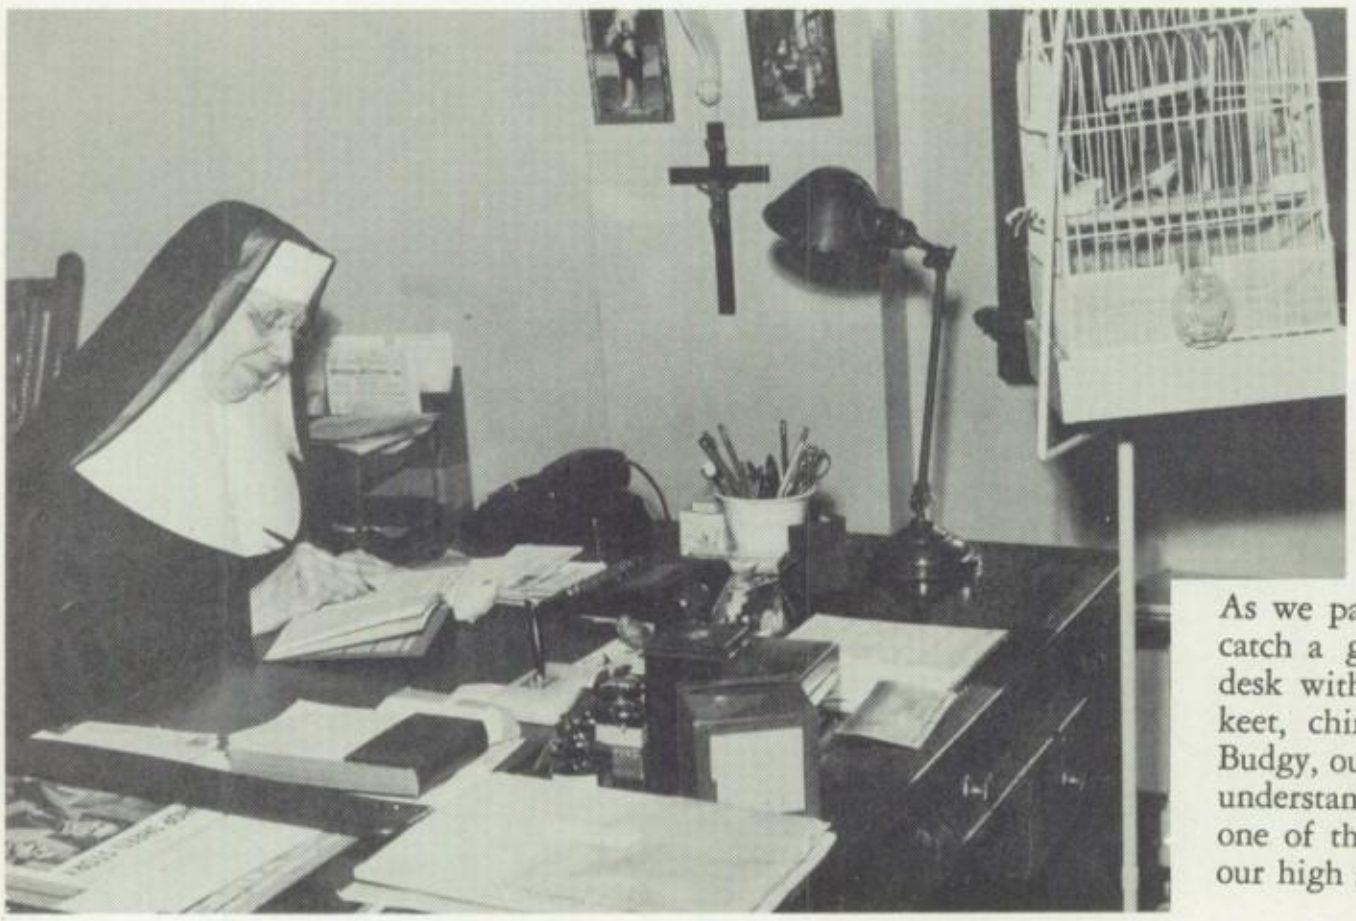
Administration



As we pass Mother Catherine's door, we catch a glimpse of her working at her desk with "Budgy," the little blue parakeet, chirping away in his cage. Like Budgy, our Mother is always cheerful and understanding. Her sincere smile will be one of the most cherished memories of our high school days.

Reverend Mother Catherine, superior

FACULTY COUNCIL

Reverend Mother Catherine, superior; Mother Rita, assistant superior; Mother M. Helen, zelatrice and directress; Mother Antonia, treasurer; Mother Ann Marie, supervisor of education.

Mother M. Helen

directress

Through the hall speeds a small fleet-footed figure. Papers in hand, she calls back over her shoulder, "Notice going up!" All day long Mother Helen pursues her innumerable duties. How would SUA ever get along without our efficient and sympathetic directress?

She writes out checks, pays the bills, and worries about how we'll pay for the new gym.

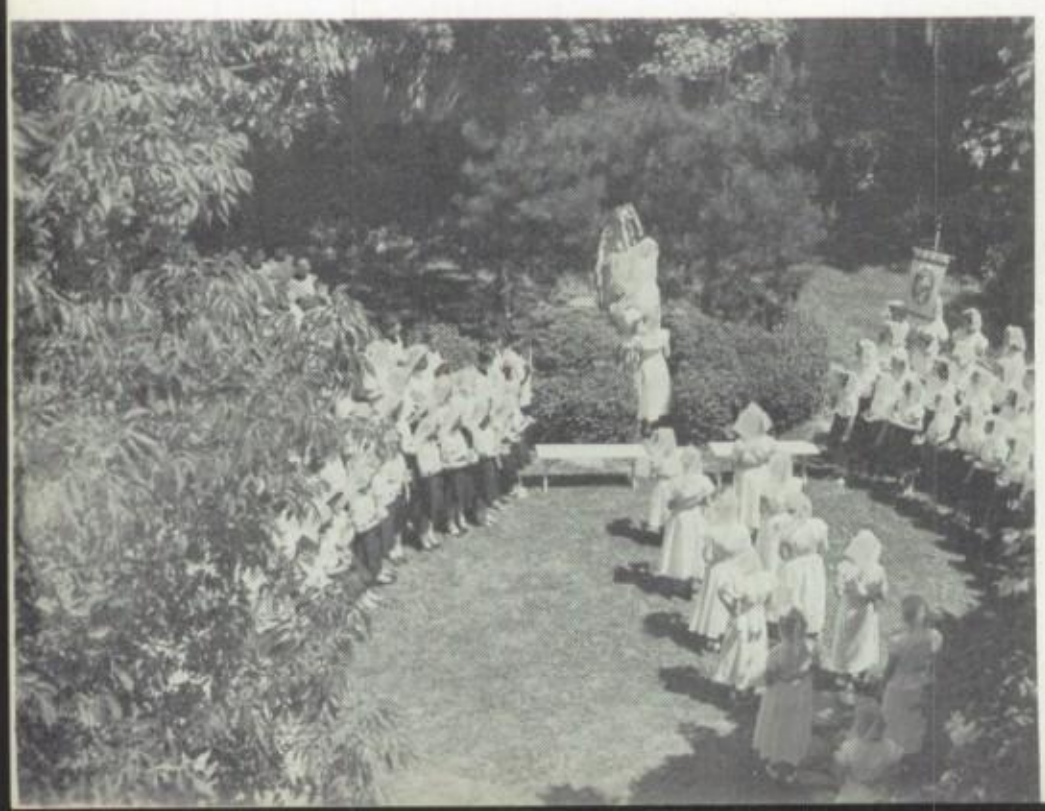
Pictorial History of the Class of '54

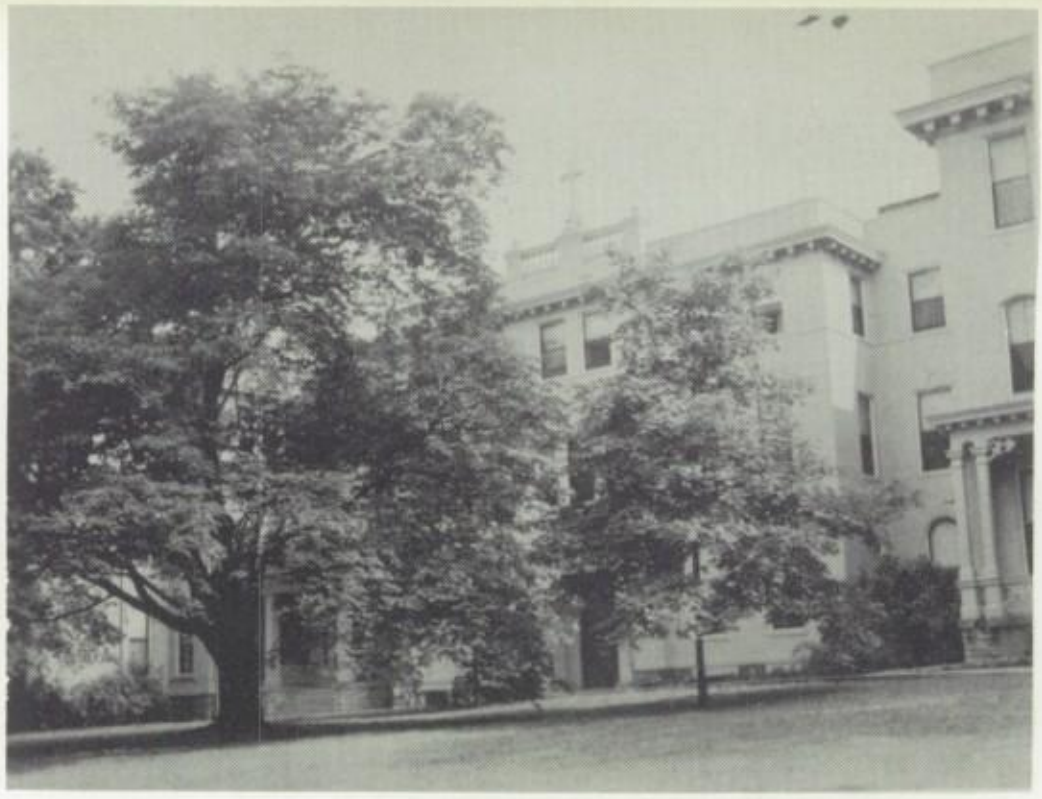
AS FRESHMEN

AS SOPHOMORES



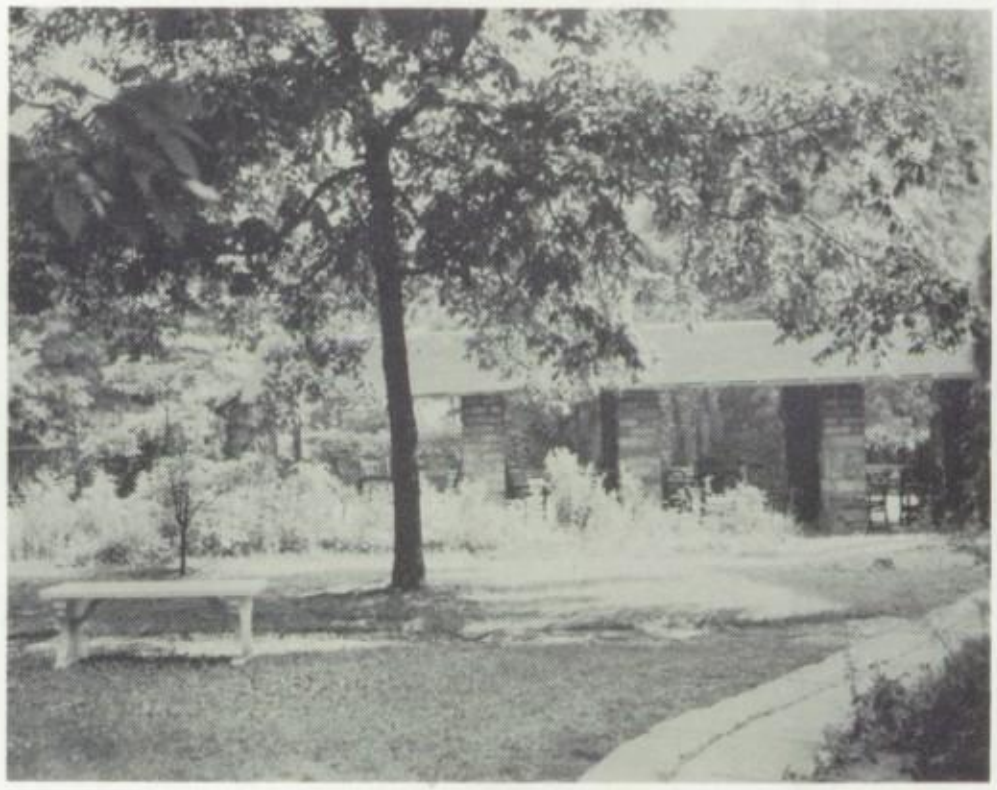
AS JUNIORS

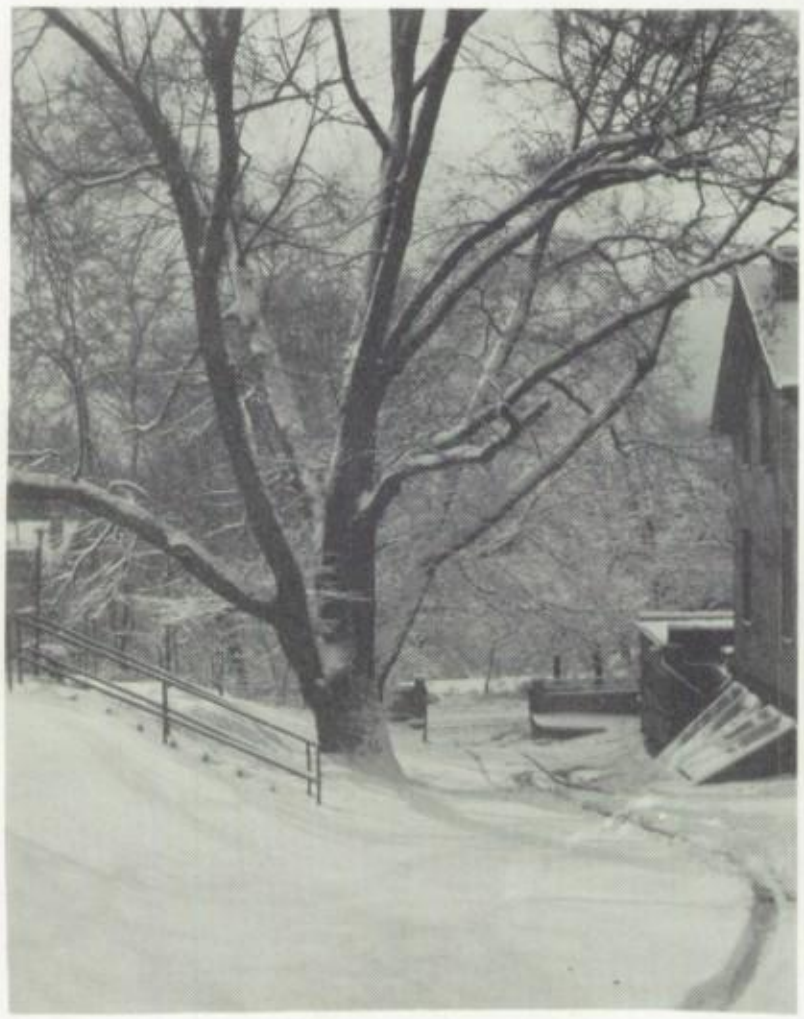
S U A



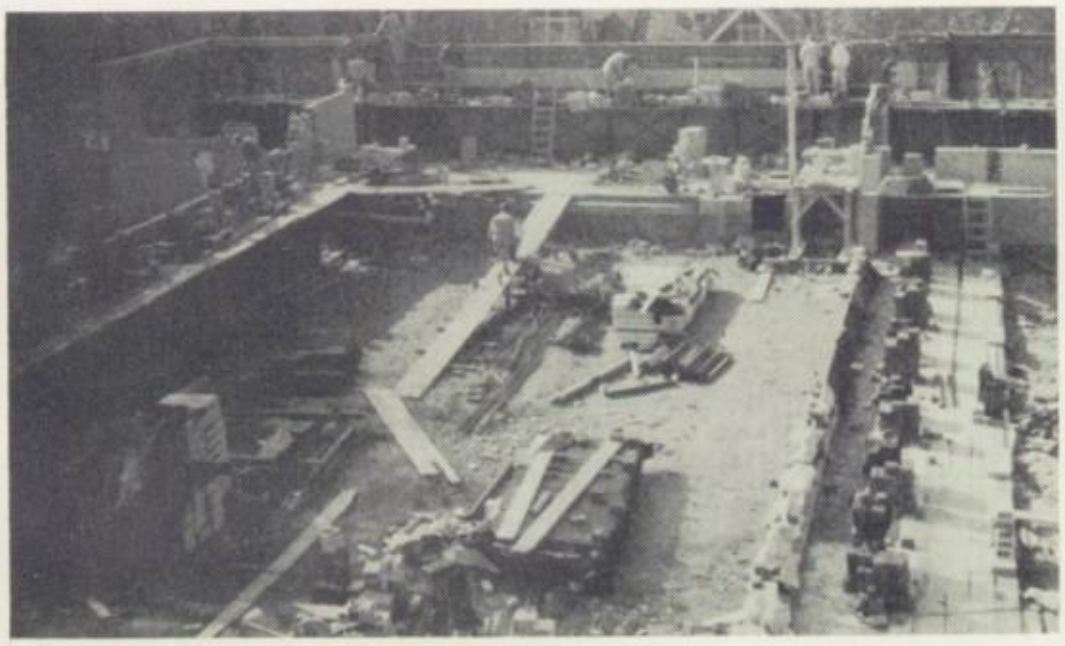
As it was . . . . .

Just one year ago, the shelter porch, the giant elm, the basketball court and playground occupied the site of the new gym . . . .



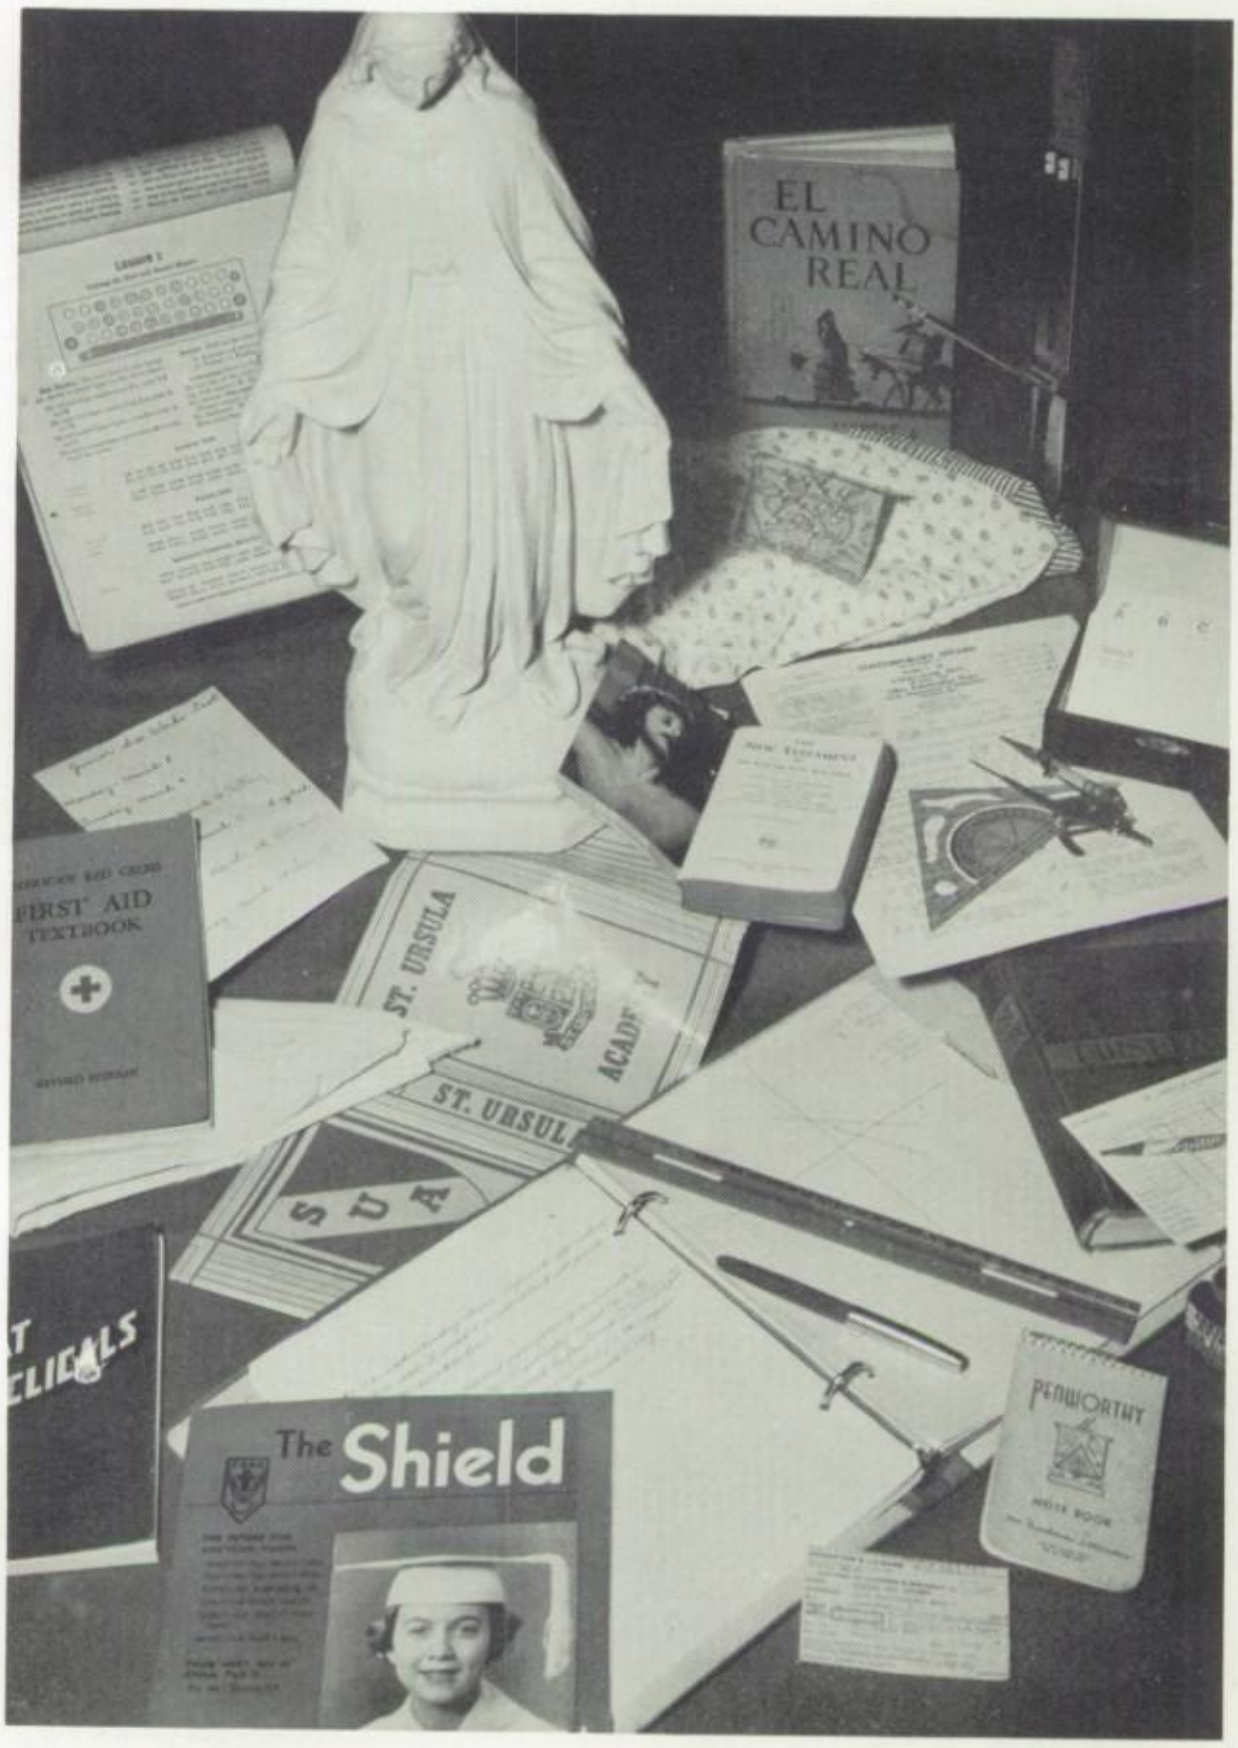


In September the terrain underwent a change. First the foundation, and finally, walls began to go up . . .



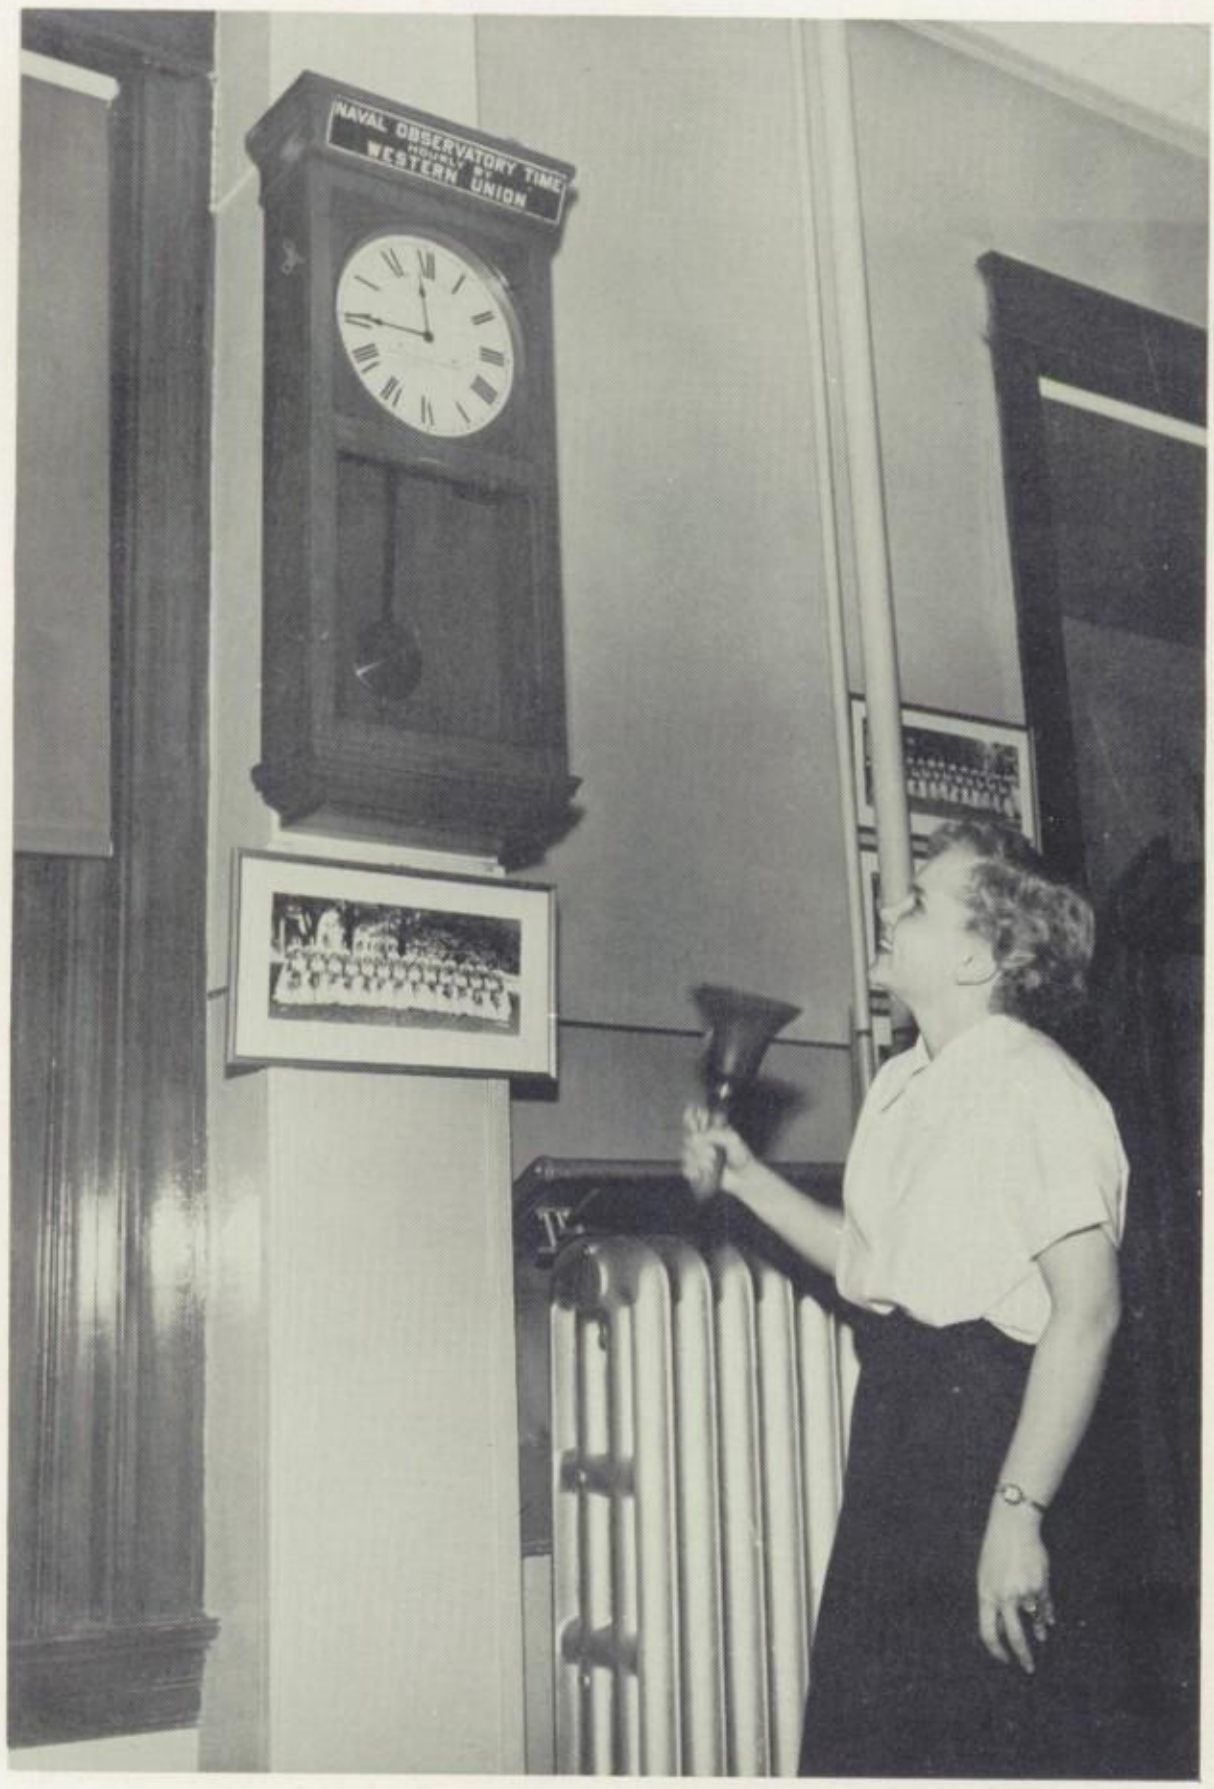
Studies

She watches over our study —



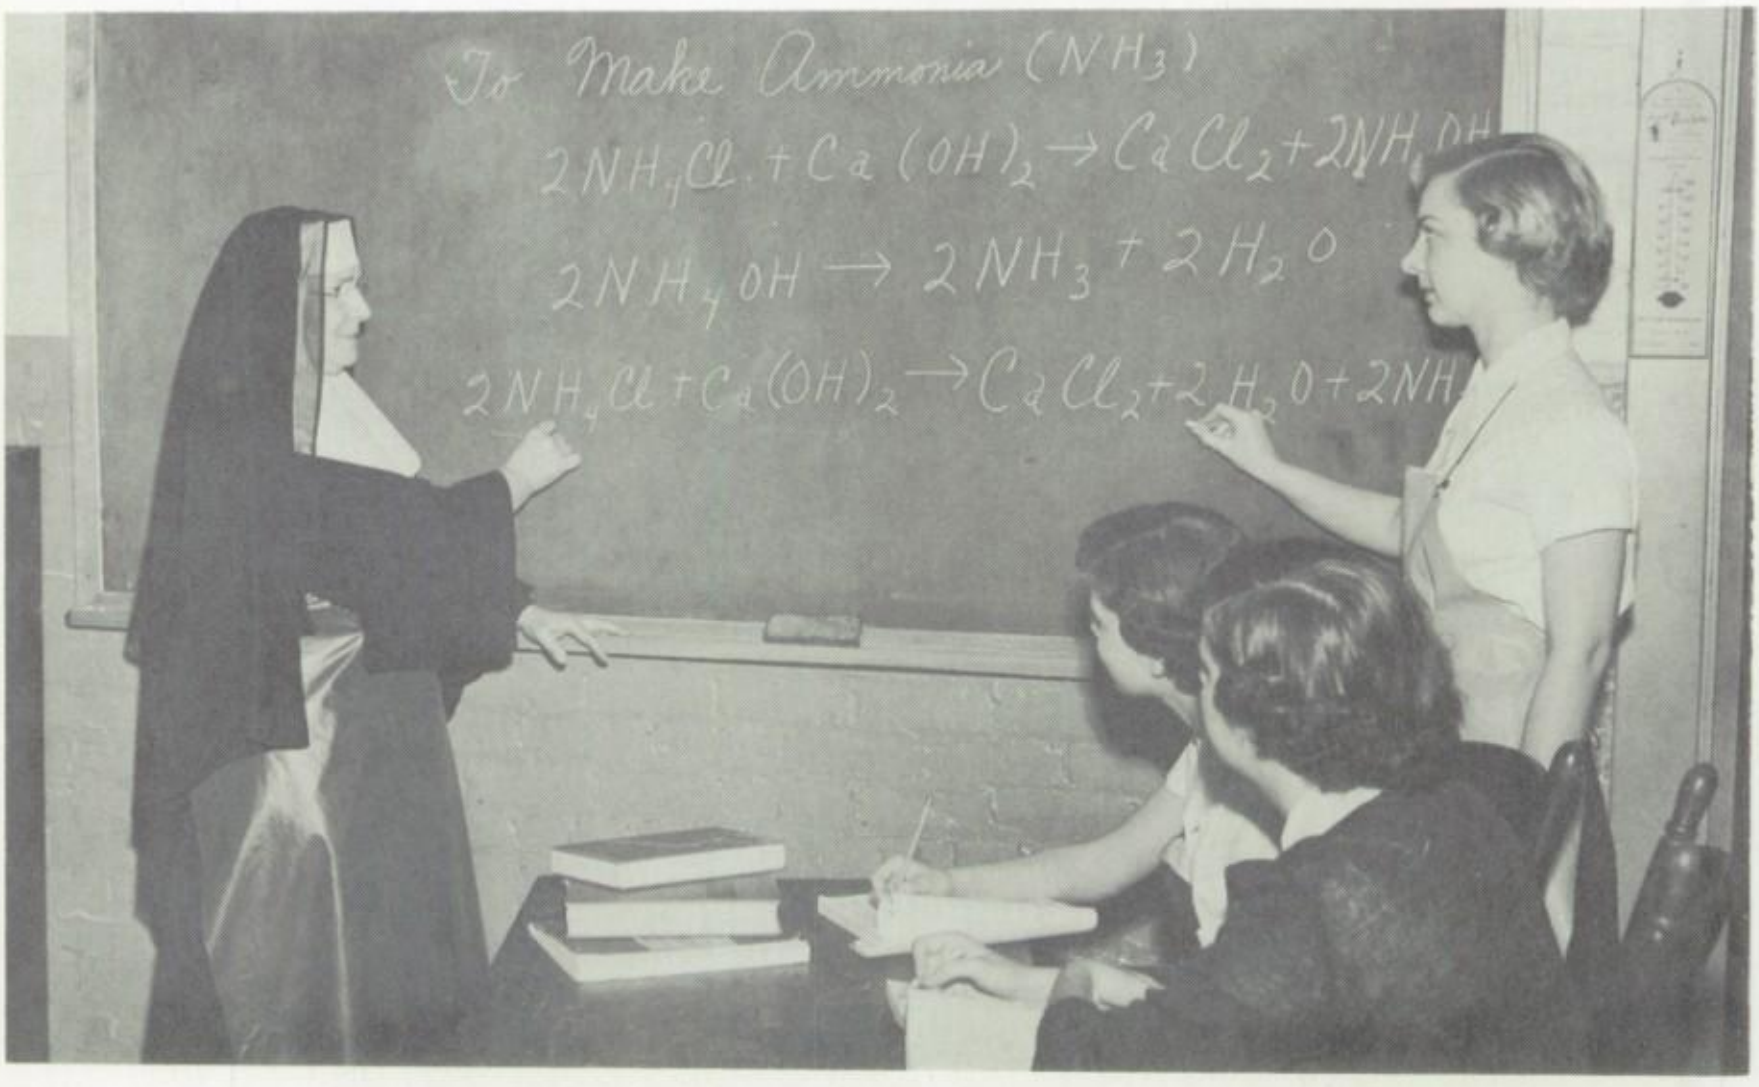
And Inspires Us To Do Our Best

Classes



11:45 and time for the last morning class! Patty Siemers, senior president, begins and ends every class period with a vigorous swing of the old school bell.

Seniors



To Make Ammonia (NH_3)
$2NH_4Cl + Ca(OH)_2 \rightarrow CaCl_2 + 2NH_4OH$
$2NH_4OH \rightarrow 2NH_3 + 2H_2O$
$2NH_4Cl + Ca(OH)_2 \rightarrow CaCl_2 + 2H_2O + 2NH$

Sister M. Edward and Judy Fisher work out several chemical equations for the benefit of Joyce Egbers and Jo Ann Hilvert.

Making their own version of the atom bomb in chemistry lab are seniors, Barbara Kammeron, Kathleen Milleck, Audrey Besl, Marie Caruso, Barbara Middendorf, Betty Doran, Jean Peters, Betsy Boehm, Kay Ryan, Barbara Heger, Elaine Besterman, Betsy Kennealy, and Joyce Egbers.

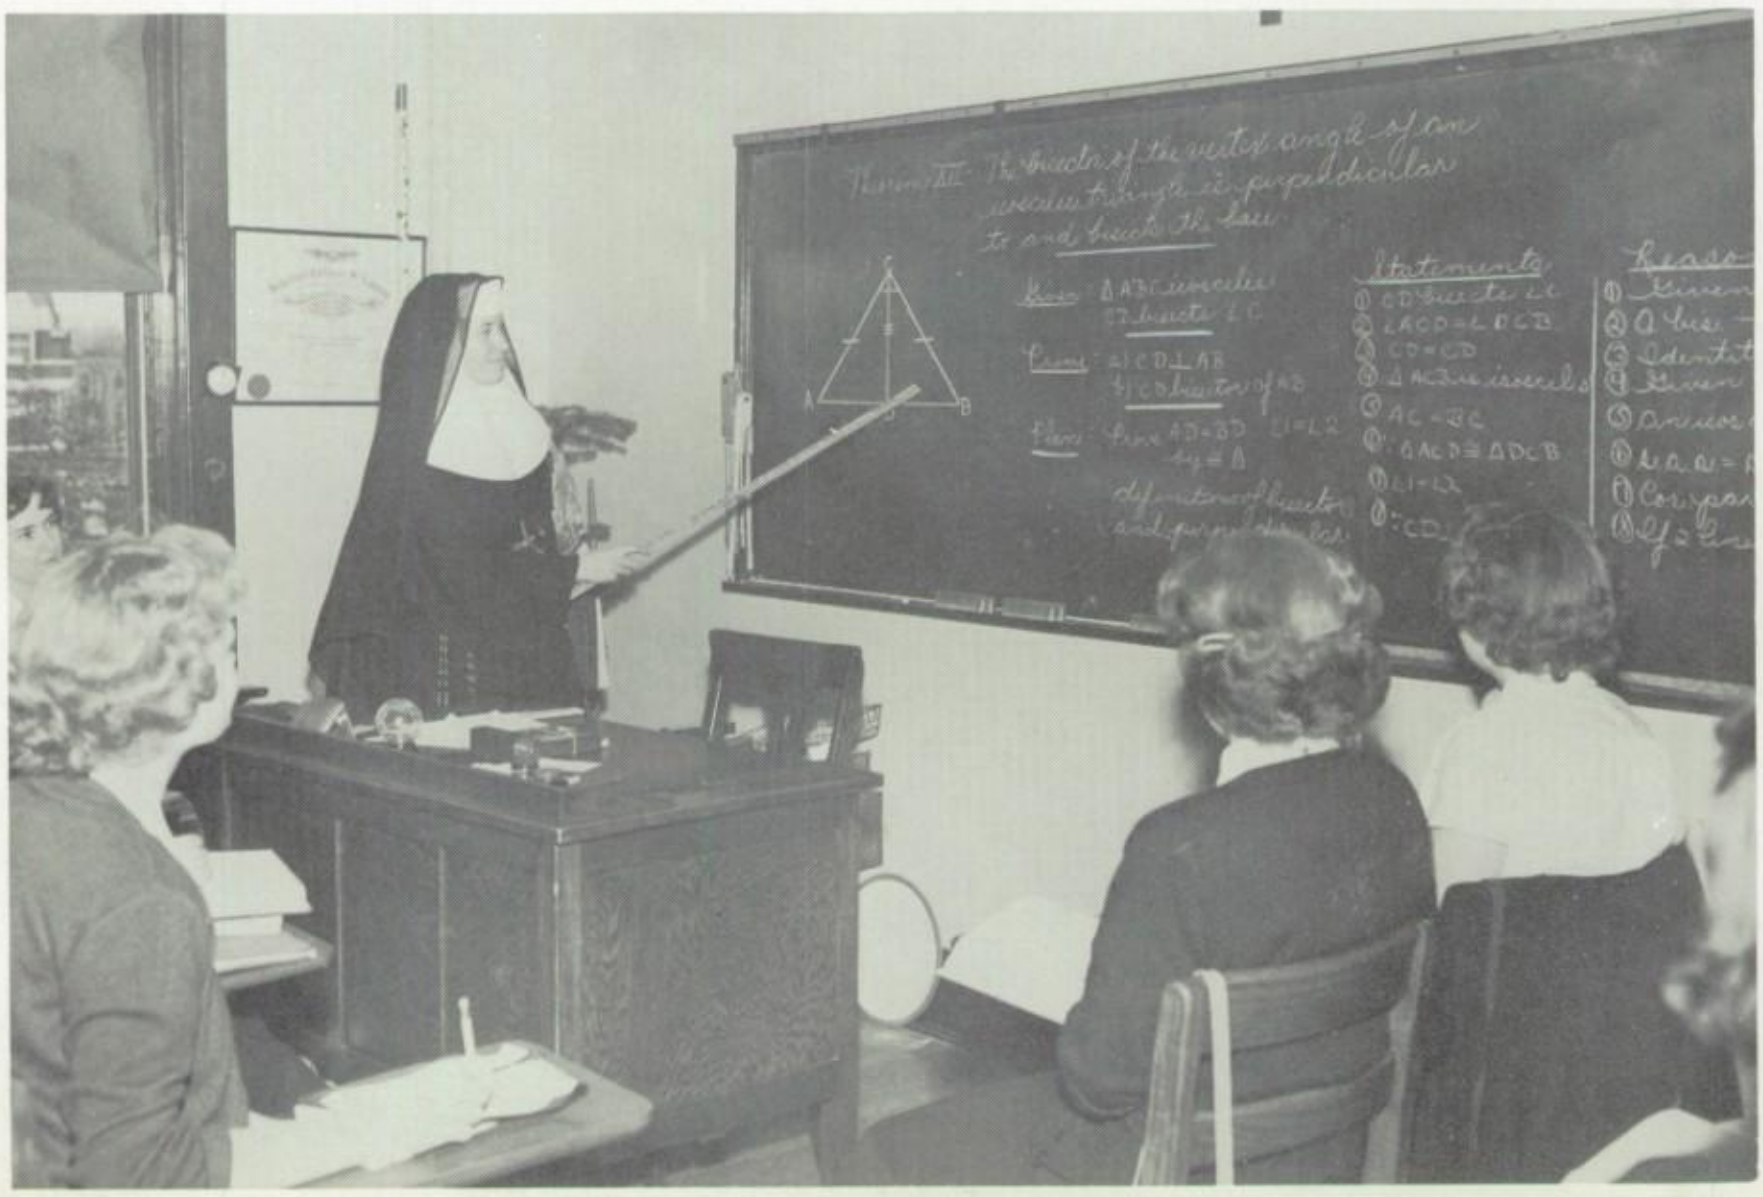
Home nursing students are Betsy Boehm, Mary Ann Reenan, Mary Fellers, and Blanche Naber around the table. Happy patient is Carole Coletta. Elaine Besterman practices taking her temperature, while Joyce Egbers pours water into a basin for bathing.

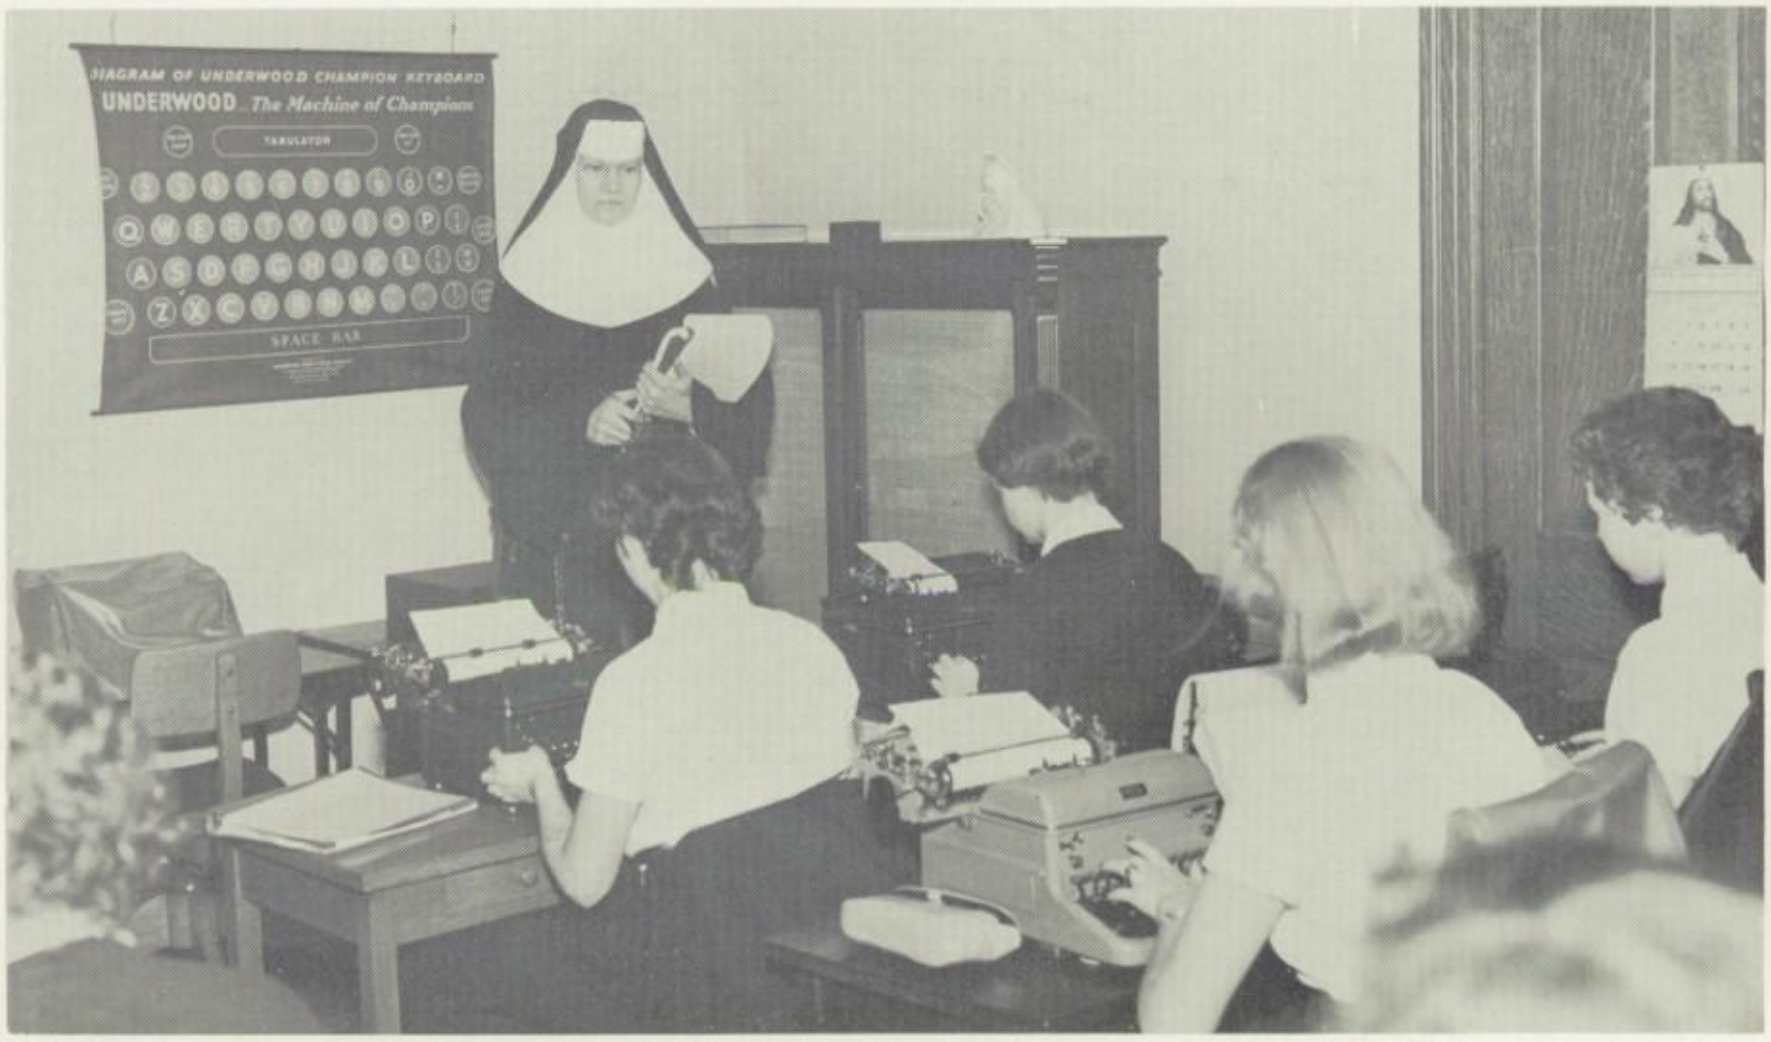
French III students, Carole Coletta, Betty Meyer, and Sister Judith, listen attentively to Sheila Blinkhorn rolling her "r's" over the tape recorder. Their teacher is Sister Joan Marie.

Juniors

Miss Weber uses the globe to demonstrate world geography and related facts to Ruth Bissmeyer and Jane Metz.

Geometry seems easy (?) to Mary Hickey, Virginia Haman, Arlene Anness, and Pat Kunzi when Sister Rose Angela explains the proof.





Click! click! click! RING!! Sister Mary Angela hears these sounds every P.M. when Mary Jean Smith, Sheila Dorney, Joan Lambers, and Bonnie Laurie are busy at their keyboards.

Look out! Here comes a tree! After surviving this and all other hazards, Mrs. Mullinger happily watches her fledgling drivers receive certificates from Patrolman Young. They are Pat Kunzi, Marcella Huber, Nancy Eckert, Peggy Ritter, Martha Wittekind, Pat McDonald, Dorothy Crawford, Carol Schuchter, Alice Kollman, Jessie Mountel, Bonnie Laurie, Barbara Toerner, Mary Claire Murphy, Patty Kotte, Joan Lambers, Betty Hoffmann, and Judy Bohart.

Sophomores

While Carol Meyer studies a slide under the microscope, Mary Beth Cronin and Marjorie Smith dissect a frog and a fish.

Sophomores in Latin II who seem to be enjoying it are Mary Patricia O'Brien, Paula Gieske, Rita Bischoff, Mary Jo Schanzle, Norma Swarts. Second row: Donna Lobert, Judy Schaefer, Janice Stalf, Barbara Ax, Anne Evans, Carol Ann Imbus, Jaclyn Williams. Third row: Barbara Naish, Elaine Dowling, Sally Singer, Mary Dee Lutkehaus, Carolyn Hodapp, Marilyn Carroll, Marjorie Thiel, Nancy Nolting, and Rosemary Dorney.

Did someone tell a joke? Mother Rita and some of her English II class have a laugh in the sophomore homeroom.

Barbara Ax of Spanish II is sure of her subjunctives. Sister Ann Marie smiles her approval while Peggy Anderson watches for mistakes.

Freshmen

Freshman algebra girls flash smiles at the camera while Donna Schubeler shows how to solve an equation. Row on left: Anne Hannafin, Betty Nunner, Carol Justes, Carol Mitchell, Barbara Fromme, Lois Grayson. Row on right: Joyce Ganim, Patricia DiPuccio, Joan Comello, Patricia Bertke, Mary Helen Beimesche. Standing: Carol Merenfield, Mary Alice Graser, Marilyn Orlando, Carol Welling, and Donna Schubeler.

Freshman general language students compare different idioms. They are Patricia Keller, Toni Nicholas, and Mary Jean Smith.

A "Cake Walk" for educational TV was the original idea of freshmen, Carol Merenfield, Marilyn Orlando, Alma Stallo, and Anne Hannafin.

Student Activities

She Presides Over Our Activities . . . .

And Is Present for Our Fun

Sports - Dramatics - Clubs

Class assemblies, movies, and Office in Chapel break up the routine of studies. "March Onward" is our motto as we attend intramural functions. A straight line, silence, and smiles march in rank with a group of upperclassmen to a CSMC meeting. They are Joan Lambers, Audrey Besl, Jean Peters, Nancy Weiss, Blanche Naber, Betty Doran, and Kathleen Milleck

Dramatics

Miss Roberta Foley

In the 19th century people talked and acted in a very dignified manner. "All's Vanity" showed us what happens when some modern "chicks hepped things up" in a Victorian setting. Cast included Nancy Weiss, Betsy Boehm, Mary Fellers, Carroll Nurre, and Barbara Heger.

Senior cast from the class play, "Beware the Bear," take time out to pose for a picture. They are Sheila Blinkhorn, Mary Ann Reenan, Patty Siemers, Carole Coletta, Carol Berning, Mary Nordloh, Marie Caruso, Audrey Besl, Judy Fisher, Lois Meyer, and Joyce Egbers.

"Beware the Bear" screams Patty Siemers as she conks something over the head. Could Mary Nordloh have been mistaken for the bear? Joyce Egbers intends to finish the job with her tennis racquet and Carole Colette hopes for the best.

Life in an old ladies home gave these seniors a preview of how they will look and act(?) fifty years from now. "Old ladies" in "Ah, Romance" are Betsy Kennealy, Betty Meyer, Kay Ryan, Betty Doran, Barbara Middendorf, Elaine Durkin, Jean Peters, Blanche Naber, Elaine Besterman, Kathleen Milleck, Barbara Heger, Angele Coyle, and Jo Ann Hilvert.

On the day class rings were due to arrive, every Junior was at school at least a half hour early. Each golden crest on its blue stone setting was polished and re-polished and duly admired by the faculty and other classes. Enjoying their rings are Peggy Ritter, Jessie Mountel, Arlene Anness, Joan Metz, Mary Agnes Hickey, Mary Lou Freeman, Barbara Toerner, Diane Mairose, Betty Hoffmann, Carol Schuchter, Jane Metz, Joan Lambers, Carol Elder, Marcella Huber, Kay Brautigan, Judy Bohart, and Sally Moore.

Class Rings

Pynchean Street was the setting for the "House of Seven Gables," dramatized by English III. Portraying the famous Hawthorne characters were Marcella Huber, Barbara Toerner, Sheila Dorney, Betty Hoffmann, Mary Claire Murphy, Nancy Eckert, Peggy Ritter, Mary Agnes Hickey, and Virginia Haman.

Jitterbug! Bunny Hop! Hokey Pokey! Ah, how the fathers sighed when the time came for a waltz. At the "Pops Hop," daughters showed their dads what wonderful dates they could be.

Father Godfrey Poage, C. P. was our Retreat Master both this year and in 1952. Dorothy Crawford and Betty Doran seem to like his joke.

Sodality Communion in a body is one of our most cherished experiences. First Fridays, Retreat, Forty Hours — on all these days we receive our Lord in the academy Chapel.

"Lighting the Advent Wreath" was a pre-Christmas activity sponsored by the Sodality. Seniors above are Jo Ann Hilvert, Jean Peters, Angele Coyle, Nancy Weiss, and Marie Caruso.

SODALITY — CSMC

Father Innocent Simoni of the Verona Fathers tells us about his 30 years of work in Africa as a missionary.

Martha Wittekind, Carol Schuchter, and Dorothy Crawford arrange the Junior homeroom altar.

Girls' Athletic Association

GAA officers survey the half-finished gym. Probably they're planning to transfer the sports program to the new building. Officers are Betty Doran, Dorothy Crawford, Carole Coletta, and Lois Meyer.

"Come on in, the water's fine!" Cold weather or hot, these gals prefer their water tepid.

Splashing around at the Williams "Y" are Marjorie Thiel, Marjorie Smith, Joyce Ganim, Donna Schubeler, Carol Elder, Nancy Nolting, Diane Mairose, Barbara Toerner, Marcella Huber, Kay Brautigan, Kay Schubeler, and Mary Alice Graser.

Mrs. Norma Mullinger

Strike! Spare! Oops, gutter ball! SUA takes up bowling at Mergard's. Team managers, Joan Metz and Betty Hoffmann, show Carol Merenfield and Anne Hannafin how it's done.

Yearbook Staff

No matter if the copy is ready or not, editors of the 'Crest' are always prepared to meet the "dead" line. Ready for whate'er befalls are Martha Wittekind, Pat McDonald, and Virginia Haman.

Usually calm and quiet, Sheila Dorney gets desperate when her pictures don't turn out. As a photographer, though, she's really "on the bulb."

'Light' Staff

Editorials, news, features, ads! All supplied by a staff of juniors who publish the school paper and yearbook. Sitting at the table are Nancy Folz, Patricia McDonald, Martha Wittekind, and Virginia Haman. Standing are Patty Kotte, Jacqueline Sheppard, Nancy Eckert, Bonnie Laurie, Ruth Bissmeyer, Alice Kollman, Patricia Kunzi, and Sheila Dorney.

"Modern Fairyland", theme of the 1954 Variety Show, brought to the stage a favorite fairy tale, "Beauty and the Beast." Miss Foley wrote the script and dialogue.

Sister Sarah Ann measures Sheila Dorney for a dance costume, while Nancy Folz waits her turn. All Variety Show costumes are made by the girls or their mothers under Sister's supervision.

'Round the clock, perfect timing, is the motto for precision dancers, Judy Bohart and Marcella Huber.

Ballerinas Bonnie Laurie and Marjorie Thiel, glide in on a breeze, adding a final touch to "Modern Fairyland."
